

THE OPENING

Of our
DRESSMAKING DEPARTMENTS
Will take place this year on or about
September 20.

The season is conceded by all to be a little late, and our desire to be "UP TO DATE" in Dressmaking as well as merchandising prompts the postponement of our opening until the above time.

This gives MADAME HODGES and MADAME PHILIPS, who are now in the East, ample time to procure for you the very latest ideas.

On their return next week you can depend upon it, they will have an intimate knowledge of

FASHION'S DEMANDS.

As these trips are made exclusively for the benefit of our patrons, a cordial invitation is extended to all our "out of town" customers as well to call and have a "chat" with the Madames about those NEW FALL DRESSES.

INTERIOR DECORATIONS

Was the sign the new restaurant keeper hung out as an offset to the barber next door, whose sign read "Tonsorial Parlor."

Our "Interior Decorations" are not the kind which the restaurateur furnished, but they will suit a "tonsorial parlor" or any other kind of a parlor.

They will adorn any room in a house, make it better worth living in, and increase the happiness of the household.

Now is the time for new things in this line.

Alleged Embezzler Brought Here.
Deputy Sheriff Tom Neelan brought Frederick A. Escott to the jail here last night from Peoria. Escott, who is a married man, above thirty-three years old, was agent at that place for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of this city, and was arrested at the instance of C. A. Boyd, manager of that company, who charges him with embezzlement. Escott says he is short in his accounts $24, and that this is the basis of the charge.

GEN. HARRISON HOME

EXPRESIDENT'S RETURN AFTER AN ABSENCE OF TWO MONTHS.

He Thinks the Republicans Will Carry
New York and Gain a Senator in New Jersey.

After an absence from Indianapolis of nearly two months General Harrison returned yesterday from the East. A month of his vacation was spent at Monmouth Beach. He was also two weeks in New York, immediately after leaving this city.

The last ten days of his vacation were spent with his former Secretary of War, Hon. Stephen B. Elkins, at Elkins, W. Va. A Journal reporter, who called on General Harrison last evening, found him in excellent health and spirits and anxious to get once more at his law business. In response to a question as to what part he would take in the pending campaign Gen. Harrison replied:

"It is not my intention to enter into the general work of the campaign. I have promised the chairman of the Republican State committee that I will make two speeches, but in these I had not intended to go into a general discussion of the issues involved in the campaign. My idea was that I would speak in connection with meetings where other speakers participated and not at any great length. I have had numerous calls to take part in the approaching campaign, invitations coming from as far away as Texas. If I were to respond to all the calls that have come, from now until Christmas would not let me out, and while I have not decided definitely that I will not go to other States, yet the chances are that my campaign work will be confined to Indiana and the two speeches that I have mentioned."

"What are the chances for the Republicans in the State of New York?"

"The fact is that about all the information I have relating to New York politics has been gleaned from the newspapers. The only Republican politician of any note whom I saw in New York was the chairman of the Republican State committee, whom I chanced to meet on the street. Our conversation was on general topics and very brief."

"What did you learn about New Jersey politics?"

"The drift in New Jersey I think is decidedly in favor of the Republicans. The opposition Legislature which the Democrats set up in that State did not strengthen the party with the masses. The administration of affairs in Jersey City has been almost as bad as that of the New York City, and the influence of the race track in New Jersey politics is one which the people are determined to eliminate. In West Virginia also the Republicans are exceedingly favorable to the Reuben T. Morgan administration. The nomination of the day when the Democrats nominated their candidate against Mr. Wilson in the Second district, it was one of the most enthusiastic cover-ups of the party. I noticed that the Democrats had nominated Mr. Dayton, an exceedingly bright and active young Republican, who if he succeeds in working the district as he worked me I have no doubt of his election."

"He accompanied me," said General Harrison, with a smile, "from Elkins to Grafton. He noticed that my car was switched off on a spur and was held there for some time, and could not understand the meaning of it until being called to the platform I stood face to face with an audience of about twenty-five hundred of Mr. Dayton's constituents. I spoke to them for about thirty minutes."

"Was Mr. Elkins a candidate for the nomination for Congress against Mr. Wilson?"

"No, he was not. I think Mr. Elkins' ambition lies in the direction of the United States Senate. The chances are very good for a Republican majority on joint ballot in the next West Virginia Legislature. The chief products of the State are wool, timber and coal. These are about all they have. Two out of three of these products the recent tariff law placed on the tariff, and a strong effort was made to make the third product free. As a result the industries of West Virginia are languishing and the people there are ready for a change. The chances of the Republicans in West Virginia are further enhanced by the contest between Wilson and Camden for the latter's seat in the United States Senate."

"On the whole, then, General, during your two months East you did not discover anything discouraging to the Republican prospects?"

"No, on the other hand, I am confident the Republicans will carry the State of New York by a good road majority. I believe that the State of New Jersey will send a Republican to the United States Senate in the place of Mr. McKim, and the Republicans will make a gain of several members in the House. I think, also, that the chances are good for the gain of the United States Senator and several members of the House in West Virginia."

General Harrison expressed regret that an important law case in New York would probably prevent his presence in Indianapolis when Governor McKinley, of Ohio, speaks here on Sept. 23.

CARS FOR BROAD RIPPLE.

New Electric Line Will Open for Business This Morning.

Cars will begin to run on schedule time on the Indianapolis and Broad Ripple Rapid Transit Company's line to-day. Dr. Light, who has labored for seven years for a line to that place, was so busy yesterday while he was talking of the prospects for the new company. The cars to be run to-day will be leased from the Citizens' Street Railroad Company, and will run every hour. Dr. Light thinks the Broad Ripple company will have its own cars ready to run by Monday. The company has employed a sufficient force of men to operate the cars as soon as they are mounted upon the tracks. The line will connect with the North Illinois street line at Twenty-sixth street. The cars will make the connection between noon yesterday. Immediately upon its completion a trial trip was made over the line to that place, and the new service would work. The first car will leave the Union Station for Broad Ripple at 7 o'clock this morning. About 10 o'clock the cars will be run over the line carrying newspaper men and invited guests.

General Harrison's Street-railroad Company has been employing a great many men. Within the past ten days it has been about thirty-five men, and the impression is that these men were employed to operate the new road. Dr. Light was asked yesterday if it was true that the companies were the same in interest and answered that it was partially true. Dr. Light, Messrs. McDonald, Clay are the stockholders in the Broad Ripple company. The latter two are both interested in the Citizens' Street Railroad. Light has no interest in that company, and he says that Messrs. Verner and McKee, of the Citizens company, have no interest whatever in the Broad Ripple company.

SECOND DAY OF SHOOTING.

Ties for Merchandise Prizes Shot Off—Money Stakes Divided.

Yesterday's events of the second annual tournament of the North End Shooting Club, held two squares east of the end of College avenue, were closely contested, most of them being for first and second places. The ties were shot off in the events where merchandise prizes were offered, and in the events where there were money prizes the stakes were divided. The results were as follows:

First Event—Fifteen single blue rocks. Money prize divided between B. A. Bartlett, Ed. Wright and C. W. Ray, who were tied for first place, each killing fourteen birds.

Second Event—Twenty single blue rocks. Charles Lockwood, of Southport, captured first prize by killing nineteen birds. There were five ties for second place.

Third Event—Ten single blue rocks. Muma, Partington and Lockwood tied for first place by doing and doing. Each killed ten birds.

Fourth Event—Twenty single blue rocks. Muma, Partington and Lockwood tied for first place by doing and doing. Each killed ten birds.

Fifth Event—Fifteen single blue rocks. Fugate first, fifteen birds, and Bartlett tied for second place, each killing fourteen birds.

Sixth Event—Fifteen single blue rocks.

Partington, Lockwood, King and Martin made fourteen birds each and tied for first place. They divided first prize, $15 in money.

Seventh Event—Ten single blue rocks. Muma first, ten birds, and Rike second, nine birds.

Eighth Event—Ten single blue rocks. King won the shoot-off and first prize, with Bartlett second.

Ninth Event—Fifteen single blue rocks. Rike and King each made the fifteen birds and divided first prize.

Baker made the highest average on the opening day, and won a pair of bronze statuettes, donated by Julius Walk & Son. Great interest centers in to-day's events. English sparrows will be used, and there will be eleven events. The one making the best average will be given a gold badge emblematic of the 1894 amateur sparrow championship of the United States.

CARPENTERS' COMING MEETING.

Biennial Convention of the National Brotherhood Here Next Week.

The second biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America will open in this city next Monday. The organization has about 90,000 members on its rolls, distributed mainly throughout this country and Canada, there being many members in the last named country according to the statements of General Secretary McGuire, of Philadelphia, who is in the city. About 150 delegates are expected to attend, thirteen of whom are already here and registered at the Hotel English. None of the thirteen will talk much as to what the convention will probably do, excepting as to a revision of the constitution.

Speaking on this subject a delegate said: "We have nothing of vital importance before us, and the only thing that I know we will do is to revise the constitution. We have not met as a body for two years and since that time we have seen that certain sections of our constitution need revision. It is mainly the question of the right of local unions to declare a strike off and on. Of course, the question of hours and wages will be discussed, but the fact is that for the last year and a half we have not been overburdened with work and that we are glad to get work at all alters the case greatly. However, we will do nothing sensational in this line."

FAVORABLE TO GOV. TURNEY.

Report of the Committee to the Anti-Lynching League.

The meeting of the Anti-Lynching League at the Ninth Presbyterian Church last night was not largely attended, although considerable enthusiasm prevailed. In the absence of President G. W. Cable, First Vice President Haygood was in the chair. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Franklin the committee in charge of Miss Ida B. Wells's Indianapolis campaign reported everything in readiness for her lectures on Sept. 27 and 28. The committee appointed to investigate the attitude of Governor Turney of Tennessee toward the colored people of his State came forward with a favorable report. It was understood by the committee that the Governor had offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the men who perpetrated the recent lynching outrage, and that he was doing all in his power to bring about a better condition for the colored people in the South. It was further stated that the Governor had organized a relief committee whose object it will be to aid the families of the lynch victims. The meeting adjourned to meet the fourth Wednesday in September at the Fourth Baptist Church.

HE CHASED THE DOCTORS.

Robert Heller Again Causes Excitement on the Streets.

Robert Heller, a lumber merchant, attempted to drive a spirited horse yesterday afternoon while intoxicated, with the result that his vehicle collided with several other vehicles, but fortunately not causing serious damage. On Pennsylvania street, near New York, he recklessly drove into a busy street, and several women and children were hurt. Dr. O. G. Pfaff, A. C. Kimberlin and Bernger were sitting in their offices and saw the affair. They ran to the street and caught Heller, but he was doing all in his power to escape. He was taken to the hospital, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the hospital, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the hospital, but he refused to be taken there.

THE MONEY WAS HIS OWN.

"Patsy" Bolivar Indignant Because He Could Not Throw Away Coin.

Captain Campbell was enjoying a quiet sleep at his home on Harrison street yesterday at noon when he was rudely awakened by hearing a man shout: "Oh, Mr. Officer, a drunken man's throwing rocks on the Big Four tracks." Suggestions of disastrous results to window panes caused the Captain to leap from his bed and rush to the place, followed by the man who had awakened him. He found "Patsy" Bolivar, a Big Four employee, intoxicated and distributing pieces with a lavish hand to a crowd of gleeful urchins. When the Captain arrested him Bolivar protested, saying that the money was his own. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there.

THREW HOT IRONS AT HIS WIFE.

While Mrs. William Reagan, residing at No. 162 East Market street, was ironing in the kitchen yesterday afternoon her husband came home in a drunken condition and accused her of being false to him. When she denied it he threw hot irons at her and chased her from the house. Several neighbors, who volunteered to soothe the infuriated husband, were given the same reception, and Reagan was left in possession of the house. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there. He was taken to the police station, but he refused to be taken there.

Performance Interrupted by Rain.

The moon was out last night when the curtain was drawn at Armstrong's Park, but ten minutes later a heavy pour of rain set in, and as there is no provision for shelter at the open air theater most of the audience was compelled to seek the nearest pavilion. "Pique for Pique," a curtain raiser, was put on for the first time, but the rain interrupted the performance before the piece was well under way. Mr. Forsythe had the part of Henley, to which he gave a clever interpretation. Miss Davis, Miss Metzger, Mr. Lorrain and Mr. Water were given in the cast. The comedietta will be given Friday night, preceding "Pan in a Boarding School," a laughable comedy, which is well rehearsed by the stock company.

Callers on Winnie Smith.

During the first few days after Winnie Smith, the murderer of W. B. Thomas, was confined in the county jail, there was a rush of curious people to see him. Though the general opinion is that the women greatly outnumbered the men, the jail officials say that the men called in as large numbers as the women. The latter, however, pressed the most energetic men, who sat unmindful of their presence in the cage, either playing cards or smoking. The prisoners were reading and smoking in his cell. The cell in which Smith is confined is in the south wing of the jail and, as in the other apartments, there is a walk entirely around the "cage."

DRIVING CLUB MAY PUT ITS FAST

Races for Next Season Practically
Abandoned—The Lease from State
Grounds Association.

The Indianapolis Driving Club has practically abandoned all thought of giving another race meeting. Last night occurred the first business meeting of the club since the last disastrous venture and the three members present spent two hours and a half in going over the discouraging finances of the week. Messrs. Robinson, Taggart and Graves were the members present. Sterling R. Holt and H. M. LaFollette being absent from the city. An accurate footing of the gate receipts for last week showed the total amount to be $5,618.50. The total sum in cash premiums paid out during the week aggregated $28,000. While the club realized considerable money from entrance fees, fines, etc., the excessively high business of the week, the members say, will necessitate making up a heavy deficit. They decline to release the club from the club lost on the week's venture.

The future existence of the driving club was discussed at length last night. The three members present were of the opinion that it would be folly to attempt to give races next year and introduce features that come enormously high. The experience of the last meeting has taught the club that the Indianapolis public demands the best sport afforded by the American race track. It has also been demonstrated that the Indianapolis public is a capricious body and is not to be relied upon. When the driving club dwells upon the painful fact that, on last Thursday, a $2,400 audience applauded $5,000 worth of special attractions, the outlook is certainly not encouraging. Should the club again attempt to give a race meeting, its action will be solely due to the refusal of the State Board of Agriculture to release the club from its contract. The State fair track was leased three years ago by the driving club for a term of five years. This phase of the difficulty was discussed last night and it was thought that perhaps the fair association would be willing to declare the contract at an end. In the event that the board declines to accept overtures in this direction it is the opinion of Messrs. Graves, Robinson and Taggart that the track could be sublet for training purposes with more profit to the club than the giving of another race meeting. What the opinion of Messrs. Holt and LaFollette may be upon the question is not known.

The secretary said, last night, that while he was pretty confident that the week's entertainment just closed would be the last ever given by the Indianapolis Driving Club, he would not like to go out with positive information until the views of the other members of the club have been ascertained. The club desires it stated that it has none but the best of feeling for the Indianapolis public and press. It blames no one, and what him of $2. The better side of the club's management is full for the patronage that it did receive.

ONE CENT A MILE.

Big Four Makes that Rate from Certain Points for Tuesday and Wednesday.

E. O. McCormick, passenger traffic manager of the Big Four, yesterday authorized the making of a one cent a mile rate to the State fair and Pottsville at Indianapolis, on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, from Sheldon, Ill., and stations between Indianapolis, and from Wabash, on the Michigan division, and from all stations between Union City and Indianapolis. It will be noticed that the one cent a mile rate does not apply to competitive points, and in this matter McCormick's action is in line with a one cent a mile rate from a large number of points without causing any friction with the local passenger association.

Mr. Henry's Engagements.

Mr. Charles L. Henry, who is making a thorough canvass of the congressional district in his contest with Mr. Bynum, will speak Friday night at 464 Virginia avenue, at Old Fellows Hall. This will probably be the last time that Mr. Henry can appear in this part of the city until late in the campaign, owing to the demands upon him for speeches all over the district. The indications are that a large crowd will greet him. His happy manner with an audience and his freedom from unkind references to his political opponents make him a very attractive speaker. His audience has been uniformly large and he says that they already equal in size the crowds that he met at the close of the campaign of 1892. His experience shows that the public sentiment has radically changed and that there is a brighter prospect for his own political success. Localities where he has spoken have been so well impressed by him that the party leaders are urging him to return to make a second speech, but it will be all that he can do to cover the ground once.

Y. P. S. C. E. Convention Bulletin.

The second convention bulletin has been issued by the local Christian Endeavor Society. The convention will meet on Thursday evening, Oct. 11. There will be meetings in Meridian-street M. E. and the Second Presbyterian churches. The principal meetings will be held in Tomlinson Hall. A room in the Union Station has been placed at the disposal of the society, and arrangements are being made to meet the delegates on the trains before their arrival at the station. A souvenir program, printed in colors, will be mailed to each delegate. Meetings will be held as follows:

Junior Workers' conference, Roberts Park M. E. Church; Good Citizenship rally, Second Presbyterian Church; music conference, First Presbyterian Church; sunrise prayer meetings, Friday morning, Oct. 12, Meridian-street M. E. (Meridian and New York streets), Seventh Presbyterian (Elm and Cedar streets) and Third Christian (Home avenue and Ash street) churches.

Condemning Chancellor Blackwell.

At a meeting last night, the Independent Turnverein adopted unanimously the following resolutions:

"The members of the Independent Turnverein feel highly indignant over the outrageous manner used by the highest officer of the K. of P. in slandering the German members of that order and insulting all German-speaking citizens of the country. They feel that the K. of P. has adopted resolutions to turn away from an order endorsing officially the expectations of such a known apostle like Blackwell. Be it therefore,

Resolved, That we will lend our assistance to all efforts to terminate the spirit of intolerance and do all we can in aiding our brethren in the present struggle."

Scott Smith's Hatchet.

The constables of Justice Daniel's court are looking for Scott Smith, residing at No. 208 Madison avenue. Tuesday Smith went home intoxicated, and because his wife remonstrated with him, attempted to kill her with a hatchet. She ran from the house, pursued by her husband, who was met at the door by his father-in-law. The two had a lively quarrel, and then Smith sought to end the matter with the hatchet, but his father-in-law followed his daughter's footsteps to a neighbor's house. The doors were barricaded, and Smith, finding he could not get in, left and has not been seen since.

To Quiz the Candidates.

The executive committee of the State central committee of the Good Citizenship League held its first meeting yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. Hall and decided upon a plan of action in regard to the candidates on all the party tickets. As soon as the committee has thoroughly perfected its organization, it will put the vital and leading questions to the candidates and thus have them place themselves on record. The committee thinks, by doing this, that the people at large can easily see who are the ones to put into office and judge accordingly.

The Teamsters and Street Sprinkling.

The teamsters and shovelers held a meeting last night at which the question of street sweeping was talked of. The time is near at hand when the contracts for this

A Bad Negro from Terre Haute.

Yesterday the police received a letter from the Terre Haute authorities asking the arrest of a negro named Emanuel Russell. Last Monday night he shot Robert Patterson, living six miles north of that city, and killed him. Russell was a member of the Home Guards. He was arrested, last night, by detectives Thornton and Kinney.

Man in Quarantine Slips Away.

One of Dr. Wright's quarantine patients, a man named Henry Lindsey, escaped from the quarantine station near the pesthouse last night. Lindsey is the Haugheville individual, who assumed his wife some days ago, and had his arm badly cut by smashing a window during the operation. He slipped out of quarantine unobserved during last evening, and is at large.

Tax Commission's Sitings.

The Tax Commissioners were in executive session all of yesterday. To-day the Chicago & Erie Railroad Company and the American Telegraph and Telephone Company will have representatives before the board asking for a reduction of valuation. Tomorrow concludes the work for this year, and decisions will then be made public in all the appeals.

The Police's New Uniforms.

The patrolmen and sergeants have been ordered to report at the police station at 2 o'clock this afternoon for inspection for the winter suits. The Model Clothing Company has the contract, which is the first home firm in years to have received it, and the men are expecting better work than in the past.

A Raid on Mrs. Smith's Resort.
